Welcome to the Parkette

We’d like to thank you for coming in to visit us today. And we’d like to: Welcome You Back To The Good Times.

The Parkette is a part of Lexington history and we are proud to be a part of it. The Parkette is known all over the Country and we are very excited to be able to bring it back to its glory days.

Making History

Since re-opening in March 2008, Parkette has continued to make history in Lexington.

The Parkette was featured on the Food Network’s Diners, Drive In’s and Dives, featuring Guy Fieri.

We have launched a series of TV Commercials on Insight Cable. Our episode aired on September 20, 2010.

Our Story

Jeff and Randy Kaplan are the Co-Owners of the Parkette Drive In Restaurant (2008).

Jeff has been a Subway franchisee, here in Lexington, since 1992. Jeff and his wife Carol came to Lexington from Tampa, Florida where they met in college at the University of South Florida. It was in Tampa that Jeff and Carol Art discovered Subway.

As a Subway customer himself, Jeff saw the potential for success that Subway restaurants could have and he wanted to be a part of it. Jeff convinced friends and family to open their first Subway franchise. Jeff and Carol have grown their company and now own several Subway locations here in Lexington.

Randy first came to Kentucky in 1984, graduating from Eastern Kentucky University with a Law Enforcement Degree in 1984. After 2 ½ years in the Atlantic Police Department, Randy joined the Lexington Police Department in 1986. Upon retiring from the Lexington Police Department in 1997, Randy and Carol opened Parkette in a strip mall for the Fayette County Attorney’s Office, at their request, as a personal project.

Jeff recruited Randy to run his Subway team, in order to build a Marketing, Catering & Security Division for his Subway stores (which they still have today). Randy could not turn down an opportunity to work with his brother, so he accepted the challenge.

After working together for the past few years “we discovered that we complemented each other so well, that we wanted to partner up on an independent project together” (with Jeff still keeping Subway, of course).

Jeff and Randy decided to purchase Parkette (2008) and return it to its glory days. We could not let this Lexington landmark and icon be destroyed (it had closed in 2007).

It took more than 8 months to renovate the entire restaurant, including the kitchen area, and a total transformation in the dining room. We knew that Lexington needed the Parkette to look and feel like the “good ol’ days”.
